M'Allister To Run For Constable

BELLE GLADE — E. F. McAllister, 41, captain of the Glades State Prison Farm guard for the past eight years, is resigning his post to be a candidate for the office of constable, District 8, he announced this week.

McAllister will run in the May Democratic primary for candidacy of the district including Belle Glade, Chosen, South Bay, and Lake Harbor.

The 41-year-old law enforcement officer has had more than 13 years of experience, including the Belle Glade police force and the New York City police department, and holds a diploma from the Rochester Fire and Police College.

McAllister said, in announcing for office, that he pledges execution of its duties and functions in a manner that will reflect prestige and honor to the citizens of this area and Palm Beach County. He said he would exert every effort to give credit to the type of law enforcement that they as taxpayers deserve.

McAllister said at all times uphold the oath of office to the very best of my ability and I will consider that oath as a public trust," he asserted.

McAllister came to Belle Glade in 1947, after five years' duty with the Navy in World War II. He holds the rating of chief boatswain's mate in the U. S. Naval Reserve, and is a member of the American Legion Post 20, the Belle Glade Lions Club, St. Philip's Catholic Church, and the Elks Lodge. He was one of the originators of the Glades Little League baseball program.

He and Mrs. McAllister, the former Ruth Mackey of Belle Glade, are the parents of four children, the youngest born Jan. 28 of this year.

AG STUDENTS VISIT AT EES

Vocational agriculture students from Belle Glade, Pahokee, Moore Haven, and Clewiston were given a "recap" of the Cattlemen's Field Day recently held at the Everglades Experiment Station, in a special session Tuesday morning which included a tour of the Experiment Station, and brief talks by station staff members on the work being done at the station in the cattlemen's field.

Ralph Kaider spoke to the boys on the breeding program. Dr. H. L. Chapman spoke on the Everglades harvesting machine. Dalton Harrison spoke about silage harvesting machine. And Dr. R. J. Allen, Jr., spoke on silage and winter pasture.

The boys were taken on a tour of pastures and other facilities. They were accompanied by their vocational agriculture teachers, Sam S. Lovell, of Belle Glade, L. E. O'Neal of Pahokee, Wade Shivers of Moore Haven, and Richard Pope of Clewiston. Forty-four boys from Belle Glade, 47 from Pahokee, and about 30 from Moore Haven and Clewiston attended.

$6,800 IN SO. BAY PERMITS OK'D

SOUTH BAY — A total valuation of $6,800 in building permits was issued by City Council at its regular meeting Monday night, while a permit to build a service station at the traffic triangle was denied because of projected widening of the highways at that intersection.

SR 80 and US 27 are to be widened at the triangle, by the State Road Department, so that the permit was requested by O'Neal Walker and J. C. Bowen.

Chinchillas In Glades, And Fur Good Reason

BY JANE RIEKER

PAHOKEE—Chinchilla breeding leads to many things—little chinchillas, a new vocation, or even an industry which produces $38,000 coats.

Probably the first Glades chinchilla breeder is Mrs. H. M. McIntosh. She is new at the business of raising the wearers of the world's most expensive fur, but her mama-to-be chinchilla won a show ribbon last Sunday.

"Big Mama," of Mrs. McIntosh's first foursome of chinchillas, was named reserve champion female at the Miami show of the Florida branch, National Chinchilla Breeders of America.

Post 20, the Belle Glade Lions Club, St. Philip's Catholic Church, and the Elks Lodge, have observed Monday evening off the garage at their residence has been partly turned over to the two pairs of chinchillas. The three-furred, gorgeous, neat animals live in wire cages and don't bother anybody.

They bathe in sulfur, earth, in one of two silver-painted "bathtubs," to keep their fur clean and dry, and brush their teeth. Mrs. McIntosh became interested in the raising of chinchillas through Cdr. and Mrs. (Continued on Page 8)

PTA 59th Year Marked Monday

BELLE GLADE — The 59th anniversary of the founding of the Parent-Teacher Association was celebrated at the meeting of the Belle Glade PTA with Mrs. Richard Uhl, of Lantana, County Council president, as the guest speaker.

She spoke on PTA work on the county and state level. Mrs. Alice Myers of Lake Worth, county study course chairman, and parliamentary, accompanied Mrs. Uhl. They were introduced by Mrs. F. C. Dooley, program chairman. At the business session, presided by Mrs. E. D. Humphries, president, the organization voted to donate $300 to the libraries of the local school system.

It was announced that "School of Progress" exhibit, sponsored by the Florida Power & Light Co. and prepared by the Ford Foundation and the American Encyclopedia, will be on display at the Florida East Railway in West Palm Beach.

Mrs. Walter Mosley announced that the books for sale on parent and teachers' bookshelf, for which money was given by the PTA, are now in the elementary school library for the use of any parents or teachers who are interested. Announcement was made of a study course on parent and teachers' bookshelf, to be given at the University Methodist Church, 299 N. W. 1st St., 7:30 p.m. There will be a sandwich lunch. All PTA members of the area and any other who are interested are invited to attend this session, which will be taught by Mrs. Alice Myers of Lake Worth.

Mrs. Walter Schlechter gave the devotion. Mrs. Lorenzo Mariani, Najarian sang vocal numbers. Following the meeting, a birthday cake marking the 59th birthday of the PTA was served by Mrs. John Hooker, Mrs. Dooley, Mrs. Ed Schoepel, Mrs. William Graber, and Mrs. Junius Harris.

Teen-Age Speeders Laugh, Says Chief

PAHOKEE — "They just laugh at us," Police Chief Leon Guthrie complained to City Council Monday night during a discussion of local teen-age speed artists and unmuffled hot rods.

The spectacle of the police chief admitting defeat by comedy in attempts to enforce local traffic laws came after Council President Loren Meredith questioned Mayor Lewis Friend as to why he had let three teen-age speeders go out of court without fines recently.

Meredith noted that responsible local residents had been registering complaints with Council about the speeders and the deafening wide-open mufflers. He said Chief Guthrie had been told informally to crack down, but that when three boys were brought into court the Mayor had let them off.

Mayor Friend replied that he had given them suspended sentences, which means that if they are picked up again, "they will get it." In fact, the mayor said, if police pick up a driver who is under 18 years of age, they can haul him into jail or fine him right then, without bringing him into court the second time.

Told by Chief Guthrie that warnings had been issued to the teen-age drivers, previous to the recent incident, Mayor Friend said that they were still in court for the first time, and that he did not believe in letting first offenders among the juvenile traffic violators.

Councilman J. H. Wilkinson, who said he agreed that first offenders could be let off, "but give them the works the second time, and remember that the grownups are speeding, too." Councilman R. B. Simonson concurred, but pointed out that he thought the adult speeders generally were not indulging in reckless driving to bother other people, or laughing at the police.

Meredith said it was disheartening to the police to bring in juvenile traffic violators and then have them let off. Mayor Friend said "I haven't yet had" (Continued on Page 8)

USDA APPROVES RAMIE FUNDS

WASHINGTON — Congressman Paul G. Rogers, along with Senators Spessard H. Holland and George A. B. Smith, announced today that they had received word from the Department of Agriculture that necessary funds would be available from the estimated 1957 fiscal year budget of $500,000 for the study of the spinning and weaving of ramie fibre either alone or in blends with other fibres.

This decision was a result of a joint request by Congressman Rogers and Senator Holland and Smathers on Jan. 20, at which time they strongly recommended that the Department of Agriculture conduct this research.

The work will be conducted by the Agricultural Research Service and the Southern Utilization Research Branch in New Orleans.

Congressman Rogers and the senators advised that this was the first step toward the recognition of ramie fibres and its economic value to the state of Florida and as a result of this beginning it was hoped that this important economic item could be developed to its ultimate benefit.

Florida National Bank at Belle Glade was designated depository of PBC's funds. The next meeting will be held the fourth Wednesday in March, the 28th.

FALL GUY: Florida's senior senator, Spessard Holland is all set to be the "Fall Guy" in an upcoming action here in Washington. But, it's a little bit different. It's all in fun. Holland is scheduled to be the featured guest or "Fall Guy" at the Circus Saints and Sinners Club of America luncheon on Saturday, Mar. 3. The custom of this club is to humorously ridicule prominent figures. Such recognition is considered a distinct honor. One idea of the calibre of the luncheon is the price—$15 per person. Holland, as a guest, will eat free.

"COLOR-ADDED" IS REGREIVED: Former congressman J. Hardin Peterson was on hand last week to help pull the fat out of the fire for the color-added folks. He appeared before a subcommittee of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee in support of a bill to let the industry use their present coloring material for three more years. Previously the Food and Drug Administration was all set to stop its use on the grounds that it was not harmless.

When "Mr. Pete" began to speak before the committee, his many years of service in the House were recalled by Congressman Ertel Carlyle of North Carolina, who was presiding. Carlyle said, "We certainly wish we had 100 more up here just like him." With that start, how could he lose? Big factor in the success of the hearing was the fact that the Food and Drug Administration agreed to extend their "certification" of the coloring for three more years.

DIMES MARCH COLLECTS $98.21 FROM THEATRE

At the recent luncheon meeting of the Pahokee Woman's Club, Mrs. Robert Schroeder, club chairman of the March of Dimes, reported that $98.21 was taken up at the collections at the Prince Theatre.

Mrs. Norman Kennedy, representative of the Chamber of Commerce building committee will have charge of the snowball concession on May 20 at the dedication of Pahokee Harbor. Cases of light bulbs were distributed among the members to sell for the benefit of the new Chamber of Commerce building. Mrs. Kennedy will be in charge of the next program meeting, Feb. 22. She will show a film on conservation. Mrs. George Tucker, president, presided.

My glorious friend is over. I'm not sure whether to be sad or glad. The latter—I rather enjoy having this. I rather enjoy having the pup reporter Lisa as a constant bother for several years. I was a little worried when she was carted off, thin as a rail, to the hospital. It was fairly infuriating that she had an interesting-sounding ailment called "hepatitis."

But it was just dandy to run the joint by myself again. Lisa, be able to sleep peacefully at night without a constant gnawing in my ears as Lisa chewed herself to sleep. My ears, for once mercifully unbiten, began to heal. My legs, so used to being snapped at during Lisa's roughhousing, lost their bruise to me.

The bosses were twice as nice to me. Truly, peace it was wonderful. Then, after 24 days, the word came that Lisa was well enough to come home.

There was a big to-do about fixing a box full of paper scraps for the patient's diet. At the last minute I was asked to accompany the entourage.

I was submitted to the indignity of a toenail-clipping, when we went to pick up Lisa, and then we both had to couch in the conserved box while the bosses went to dinner. I could hardly move for the bottles of pills, lotions, and nostrums for Lisa littering our cosy little car home.

Time we got home, I had about had it. Seething inwardly, I said to Lisa as we settled in for the night (at least she was too weak to chew the box), well tell me about your hepatitis and let's get it over with.

What she said was pretty simple. She said I had eyes and couldn't see, I had food and couldn't eat, I had a heart and didn't hear. I thought about the other I heard to be you, and I decided that if I got well I might never be such a bother again. It is good to be home. Thank you and good night. Maybe one non-quite fatal attack of hepatitis is what every dog needs.

Look what it's done for Lisa.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 1 How to Save on Your Income Tax

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Florida Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

The eve of April 15 will see a mad scramble in many households to put together the necessary facts and figures for the federal income tax returns due on that date. (April 15 falls on a Sunday this year, making April 16 the deadline.)

The last minute rush produces not only long lines at Internal Revenue Service offices, but also many careless mistakes by taxpayers.

Most of the errors are very simple. For example, about one million returns are filed every year with signatures missing. (This includes joint returns with only one signature and individual returns with no signature at all.)

Little slips in arithmetic last year resulted in overpayments by taxpayers of $18,000,000. Taxpayers got back these overpayments eventually, after the government discovered the mistakes, but the taxpayer cannot rely on the government to save him from all his errors.

The mistakes of arithmetic favoring the taxpayer were even larger—perhaps not entirely by coincidence. All returns are checked, and when an underpayment is discovered the government not only collects but also charges interest.

Opportunities Overlooked
Apart from obvious mistakes, many taxpayers overlook opportunities to claim exemptions and deductions and other ways to reduce their tax liability.

In order to help you avoid such pitfalls, this newspaper is publishing a series of articles prepared with the help of the national and state organizations of certified public accountants. These articles — if you save them and use them along with the official instructions that come with your tax forms — may save you money.

Your first step is to consider whether you should file at all, and then what kind of a return to file. For income tax purposes you are not required to file a return if your gross income in 1955 was less than $600, or if you are 65 or older and had less than $1,200 gross income. But if you had income from self-employment of $400 or more, the return must be filed for social security tax purposes.

Don't forget that tax on salary or wages may have been withheld during the year by your employer, even if your income was less than $600, and the only way to get it back is to file a tax return.

Advantage of Joint Returns
A common mistake is the filing of a separate return by a wife who has a small income. If the wife has a separate return, she is not permitted to file another return jointly with her husband, nor is her husband allowed to claim an exemption for the wife on his separate return. Most married couples will save money by filing a joint return, as this "splits" their income to put them in the same bracket as though each of them had received half the total income.

There are unusual cases, however, such as those involving capital losses, in which separate returns might result in a saving. If this is a possibility, it is best to figure both jointly and separately before deciding which way to file.

For instructions that come with your tax forms give further information. Help is also available from the Internal Revenue Service, which urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you need outside assistance.

Reaching A Ripe Old Age

When a 96-year-old New Englander was recently asked the secret of his long life and good health, he replied after a pause: "The reason I've lived so long is because I've avoided those things that many of the countless longevity 'secrets' proposed in the past."

In the Middle Ages, a "Fountain of Youth" — repeatedly sought but never found — was believed to renew aging limbs magically.

Today, because of modern medical advances, men have come closer to his age-old dream of prolonging life indefinitely than ever before in his entire history. The average man could expect to live a mere 22 years in the time of Caesar, 33 years in the Middle Ages and 41 years in 1840. Today he has almost reached the Biblical span of three-score years and ten.

Whatever help science gives him, however, the older who wishes to stay old age must rely mainly on his own ability to keep alert and interested. This is a conviction held by most medical authorities, and specifically by 96-year-old Dr. John B. Cummings. "Go when you feel like it," is his advice to the older person. "Go when you don't feel like it, but keep going!"

Port Says Glades Rep Is Board's True Desire

PORT OF PALM BEACH — Continuing a desire for a Glades representative, by membership, on the Port of Palm Beach district board of commissioners was emphasized recently by Billy B. Burns, chairman and William H. Dyer, vice chairman.

Port director and commissioner L. R. Bishop was absent from the weekly meeting on business but has long favored Glades

Glades participation officially at the port. Port Attorney Charles B. Fulton, remarking on the presence of Attorney W. Terry Gibson, at the meeting on other business, noted that Gibson had represented Glades interests, especially in recent litigation through court decision of which the port board emerged successfully from referendum legislation aimed at it. Gibson was involved as "a friend of the court" and not in opposition to the port board. A court ruling declared the 1955 legislative act unconstitutional.

Said Burns: "I feel, and I have repeatedly said, and so does Mr. Bishop, that we are very much in favor of a Glades representative on this board to give the Glades people direct representation. Now I think that when the next session of the Legislature comes up, after this (coming) election, if I am on this board at that time I will personally endorse legislation and make efforts to have the board endorse legislation to add a representative from the Glades area. I want to make that clear."

Mrs. Elsie Picot of Miami was guest speaker at the meeting of the Belle Glade Garden Club last Thursday afternoon at the club house. Her subject was "Horticulture," and her talk was highlighted by a discussion on plant classification and cultivation. She was introduced by Mrs. Ivan Van Horn, program chairman.

MIAMI ADDRESSES BG GARDEN CLUB

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. J. P. Halbrook, jr., Mrs. J. F. Browne, and Mrs. C. A. Bailey. The club voted to protest the removal of the FEC railroad trestle at West Lake Rd., and West Palm Beach Rd. for safety reasons.

Mrs. C. J. Aspey, chairman of the annual flower show, announced that plans for this year's show, which will be held Apr. 4 and 5 at St. Peter's Lutheran Church, are nearly complete.

Contests for the day were on specimens of gerbera, and on arrangements of red and white flowers. Mrs. Elsie Picot acted as chairman of judges for the day's contest, and described points of excellence for judging gerbera. The specimen contest on gerbera was won by Mrs. Van Horn, first; Mrs. Herbert Beck, second; and Mrs. C. W. McDonald, third. The contest for arrangements of red and white flowers was won by Mrs. Zumpf, first, and Mrs. W. R. Hooker, second.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Richard Hodges and Mrs. Walter Hooker. Eighteen members and a guest, Mrs. John Picot of Miami were present.

She Knew It All The Time

Chances are, long ago your grandma knew how to keep you from catching cold. Mine did. "Stay out of drafts," she'd warn. "Bundle up. Don't get wet."

Then, maybe, when you grew up you found that the old lady's theories were considered old fashioned. Germs were the thing -- and the way to avoid a cold was to avoid infection by somebody who already had one.

Now I read where scientists aren't so sure. Germs carry a cold, of course, but they now believe something else "sets it off" -- something like drafts, wet feet or going without your muffler. Grandma, take a bow!

From where I sit, there's liable to be sound reasoning behind the old customs people believe in. "Early to bed, early to rise," for instance -- or the practice of drinking hot milk or a glass of beer at bedtime. I'm not saying you ought to hold with these beliefs yourself... but you'd better get the facts before giving them the "chill."

Stilbestrol Tests Showing Feed Savings, Faster Gains

GAINESVILLE — Stilbestrol feeding experiments confirm previous indications that this hormone-like substance can save feed, according to Agricultural News Service.

But, warns USDA and experiment station scientists, who have worked with the substance, the chemical should be used in approved amounts in finishing rations for beef cattle.

They point out that stilbestrol's use does not shorten the time required to give steers the desired degree of fatness. But, research has shown that the substance improved the daily rate of gain in cattle. It also permits a substantial saving in amount of finishing feed required.

Nine state experiment stations ran tests and their checks indicated an increase in rate of gain for cattle on stilbestrol of more than one-third pound per head per day. This is 18.8 per cent higher than the control lots gained. Feed savings amounted to 12 per cent. There were no differences noted generally in carcass grades or dressing percentages between control and test cattle.

Stilbestrol-fed cattle must be marketed at heavier weights.

Health TOPICS

Presented by your Doctor of Medicine as a Health Topic Association and your Local Medical Society.

CLEANING FLUIDS
Housewives using dry cleaning solutions and great cleaners should be careful to inquire whether the fluid contains a poisonous substance known as carbon tetrachloride.

It is a clear liquid, related to chloroform, and when exposed to air evaporates quickly causing fumes with a pungent odor. Both the fumes and the liquid are capable of causing poisoning. The illness is a lingering one, lasting from one to three weeks. During this time, the kidneys shut down, the liver enlarges and bile backs up into the blood stream causing jaundice.

Many of the nonflammable cleaning solutions contain carbon tetrachloride. This fact may not be noted on the label and in its absence, it is wise to assume that the poisonous substance has been included.

In using the solution, make certain the room is well ventilated. If possible, work out of doors; then there will be no question of fresh air. Do not breathe the vapor. When work must be done inside, open windows and doors and vacate the room as soon as possible until the odor and fumes have disappeared.

Garments that have been cleaned should be placed out of doors to dry and any rags or mops used in cleaning should be placed in the open air.

After cleaning automobile upholstery, leave the car windows open until the solution has evaporated from the fabric and all fumes have gone.

It is not advisable to use a cleaning solution containing carbon tetrachloride after an illness or when alcoholic beverages have been consumed during the previous 24 hours. Illness and alcohol cause the person to be more susceptible to the poison.

With modern methods of treatment, death resulting from the poison is the exception. However, unless the use of a carbon tetrachloride solution is aware of its danger, he may become ill and yet fail to report to his doctor what he suspects is wrong. Delay in diagnosis is thus brought about.

Canal Point

How greater intelligence and wisdom can be gained through scientific understanding of God, divine Mind, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mind" will include the following selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (128:1-11): "The term Science, properly understood, refers only to the laws of God and to His government of the universe, inclusive of man. From this it follows that business men and cultured scholars have not that endurance and mental powers, enlarges their perception of character, gives them acuteness and comprehensive view, and an ability to exceed their ordinary capacity."

Also emphasizing the divine source of wisdom is the Golden Text from the King James Version of the Bible (Proverbs 2:6): "The Lord giveth wisdom; out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding."

Meet the man who performs hundreds of "weddings" a day...

BILL BAKER

Bill is just one of about 1,300 Southern Bell cable splicers. Been with the Company almost 10 years. He's active in FTA work, likes to bowl, and is a handy with tools around the house as on the job. Was "topkick" to his National Guard pals for years.

Meet Bill Baker, cable splicer for Southern Bell. In his day's work he "joins together" the hundreds of tiny wires in the telephone cables which carry your calls.

Cable splicing is just one of many jobs it takes to fill your telephone needs. And Bill is typical of some 65,000 Southern Bell people who work as a well-coached team. Keeping intricate equipment in top shape. Putting your calls through. Giving you the kind of service you want.

Because you can depend on the people behind the lines, you can depend on your telephone—24 hours a day.

GLADES JEWISH COMMUNITY CENTER

The Story of Purim Part 2

Mordecai sent a message to Esther asking her to implore Ahasuerus to spare her people. Although it was forbidden for anyone, even the queen, to appear before the king unless summoned, Esther went to him. She asked his and Haman to attend a party she had planned for them.

It happened that night that the king could not sleep. He asked that the Court Chronicles be read to him. As a result of this reading, he was reminded that Mordecai had once saved him from conspirators, and was surprised to hear that Mordecai was not rewarded for this act.

As was his custom, the king consulted Haman as to what should be done for the man the king desires to honor. Believing the king was thinking of him, Haman suggested that the honored man be allowed to wear the king's clothing and ride a king's horse through the city. Imagine Haman's chagrin when he discovered the man to be honored was not himself but his enemy, Mordecai, the Jew. Even more distasteful to him was the fact that Haman had been designated to lead Mordecai through the town on the king's horse.

The second night of her party Esther implored the king to spare the Jewish people and pointed out that she too must die if the edict were carried out. Ahasuerus reversed the decree and ordered Haman to be hung on the very gallows he had prepared for Mordecai. Mordecai now became the Prime Minister. The king caused letters to be sent throughout the land that the Jews defend themselves on the appointed day. So ably did the Jews defend themselves on the 13 of Adar, that the following day was to be a day of feasting and gladness.

The ladies' auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Mary Wall, who as acting president, presided over the meeting. It was agreed upon by the members present to have a small celebration in honor of Purim and have the Sunday school children participate. Mrs. Joan Levy and Molly Pearlman volunteered to help guide the celebration on Feb. 25.

Alternative plans for the Passover were discussed and anyone desirous of lending a hand in the Seder was asked to contact Mrs. Dave Lee, president. The temple is well on its way towards completion. The roof is expected to be completed within this week.

Beginning Sunday, Rev. A. D. Houglin, pastor of First Methodist Church of Pahokey, will deliver a series of evangelistic sermons based on the ten commandments. Sunday night's topic will be "Keeping Our Eyes on the Goal," or "God's No. 1 step sign."

REV. MR. HOUGLIN STARTS SERIES ON COMMANDMENTS

A Bible study in the book of Acts will begin next week at the midweek prayer service on Wednesday night. The book of Acts will be studied and presented for discussion chapter by chapter during the Lenten season. Everyone is urged to bring Bibles to the special series of studies.

EPISCOPAL INSTRUCTION OFFERED AT ST. JOHN'S

The session for children, which will be taught by Mrs. Veronica Richeimer, will begin on Saturday at 10 a.m. at the church. Adults will meet with Rev. John Clarence Petrie each Sunday night at 7 o'clock immediately preceding the Lenten service. Any who are invited to or not they go on to receive confirmation administered by the bishop, who will come to Belle Glade the first Sunday in June.

RADAR CHECK OF TWO IDENTICAL CARS PROVES 20% FASTER ACCELERATION IN CAR USING SHELL PREMIUM WITH TCP

TCP* releases the power locked in by engine deposits—stops pre-firing and spark plug "miss."

Yes, it's wonderful the way today's cars respond when you step on the accelerator. They fairly take off! But much of this power was built into your car as a reserve for emergencies—for those times when every driver, no matter how careful he may be, needs a sudden burst of power for safety.

Your car may be losing an important part of this reserve power to engine deposits.

These deposits form during your everyday driving and can waste up to 20 horsepower because they cause both premature firing of your gasoline and spark plug "miss."

By TCP additive neutralizes engine deposits and restores power to your car that pre-firing and spark plug "miss" take away.

Change today to Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP and you'll re-power your car as you drive... in less than 400 miles.

See your neighborhood Shell Dealer.

CHINCHILLAS —

As Mrs. McDonald said, more and more about chinchillas, her interest in them grew. So she acquired two pairs of the gray-tinted animals from Commander Hylwa, and now is busy learning all about the care and breeding of chinchillas.

"Big Mims" is expecting in April. The average litter is two, Commander Hylwa, who now is associated with the Baird Chinchilla store in West Palm Beach, explained.

The babies are born fully furred with their eyes open and a full set of teeth.

Chinchillas originally are a South American animal. Pirates discovered them centuries ago, and took them wholesale to Europe to sell to the royal families' robe-makers. European royalty wore so much chinchilla the South American population became extinct, and a ban was put on their exportation.

Commander Hylwa said that when the ermine came into popularity as the "royal fur."

An American mining engineer, realizing the chinchilla value during his time in South America, brought a group back to California with five females and seven males survived the trip.

But from those 21 chinchillas descended the present total of 400,000 chinchillas in the U.S. However, that isn't nearly enough to sustain the full-scale pelting program to produce fur coats for the social stratum which regards mink as something to be worn while washing the car.

Commander Hylwa said that a million and a half chinchillas were needed to support a full-grown industry, which is why last year only three or four chinchillas coats, a few half coats, and some stoles were made in the U.S. Russkes in New York had a day and night guard over its chinchilla coat bearing a price tag of $38,000.

It isn't that just everybody should rush out and start raising chinchillas. The fur industry wants good animals of top fur quality. It costs $1,500 to $1,500 per breeder pair at the present time, Commander Hylwa said.

"Big Mims," first two babies will be an arrival of great import indeed. From Mrs. McIntosh's original four chinchillas, who knows but what one day their great-grandchildren will be in Russkes' window?
